Topic Overview

The concept of sustainability asserts that it is possible to provide for the needs of the current generation without compromising the needs of future generations.

Governments at the local, state and national level from around the globe have adopted sustainability as an overarching principle for guiding economic and social development.

Private enterprise has adopted sustainability as a business strategy. For example, the World Business Council for Sustainable Development is a coalition of international companies united by a shared commitment to sustainable development via the three pillars of economic growth, ecological balance and social progress.

The purpose of this conference is to begin a dialog on how the concept of sustainability can be applied in York County.

Who Should Attend and Why

This conference will be of interest to:

- Local elected and appointed officials
- Commercial and retail businesses
